10 Negative Reviews

- Disappointing. The plot was predictable, the characters were underdeveloped, and the pacing was painfully slow.
- A complete waste of time. The script was weak, the jokes fell flat, and even the talented cast couldn't save this mess.
- The movie lacked originality. It felt like a rehashed version of better films, with nothing new to offer.
- Overhyped and underwhelming. The trailer promised something exciting, but the actual movie was dull and uninspired.
- The special effects were decent, but the storyline was all over the place. Too many plot holes to ignore!
- Terrible dialogue and forced acting made it hard to sit through. I expected so much more from this film.
- The pacing was off—some scenes dragged on forever while others felt rushed. It was frustrating to watch.
- The ending was completely unsatisfying. After sitting through two hours, I expected a better conclusion.
- The film tried too hard to be deep and meaningful, but it ended up feeling pretentious and empty.
- What a letdown! The first half was decent, but the second half completely fell apart with unnecessary subplots and bad editing.
